BACK-SLAPPER STICKERS (60)

2 1/2" X 3 1/2"

Collectors often become confused about this set since Fleer issued it in both the United States and Canada. The 60 sticker captions in the American set are checklisted below. While both the American and Canadian stickers have a blank space for a name and an insulting title (for example, "Chicken Plucker"). The American card is printed in black ink on shell-white stock; its Canadian counterpart uses red ink on off-white cardboard (with a gray back). Both types are blank-backed; it is believed, but not confirmed, that there are ten cards in the set. Note: a follow-up set called "School Daze Back-Slapper Stickers" is listed in the "S" section of this book. The prices below are for the American set only. The set price does not include the cards.

SCHOOL DAZE STICKERS (60)

2 1/2" X 3 1/2"

As you can see by the wrappers, this set of 60 stickers is actually a continuation of Fleer's "Back-Slappers." Apart from the style of the artwork, the stickers from either series can be easily identified by consulting the appropriate checklist. The sticker number is printed on the design, so it remains even if the sticker has been removed from the backing.
